WIN IN REPRESENTATIVE CONTEST

Lawrence E. Corcoran

Henry E. Keenan

James R. Doncaster

Joseph F. McEvoy, Jr.

Count Ends At 2.40 A.M.

Although the vote this year more than doubled that of 1948, everything was smooth in Arlington polling places yesterday, according to Town Clerk James Golden.

Mr. Golden concluded his duties at the Town Hall at 2:40 a. m. this morning, took the ballot boxes over to the police station, where they were double-locked in a cell.

First precinct to report was Precinct Two, which checked in at 9:25, while the last to appear was Precinct 13, which checked in at 12:20 p. m. Tabulation was completed at 2:40 a. m.

Mr. Golden said that Arlington could be proud of its primary turnout and paid tribute to the PRESS and the League of Women Voters for stimulating the voters.

Marine Veteran Gives Life In Korean Drive

The first Arlington war casualty was reported this week when Ma-

Sgt. George L. DeForge, 25, was killed in the savage fighting to hold the Korean beachhead around Taegu.

The sergeant was a veteran of World War II having survived the bitter fighting on Iwo Jima, Okinawa and the Marshall Islands.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvah J. DeForge, he was born in Somerville and attended schools there. He also attended Arlington High School and Mount St. Charles Academy.

The deceased enlisted in the Marine Corps seven years ago. At the end of World War II he was discharged and returned to civilian status. He re-enlisted at the end of a few months and was sent to Japan for occupation duty.

Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, First Lt. Alvah J. DeForge, Jr. stationed at the National Guard School in St. Louis and Robert DeForge, a student at Boston College High School; and a sister Miss Mary Mary DeForge, a laboratory technician at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Boston.

George L. DeForge, 25, was the youngest of the DeForge family to serve in World War II. His father, Major Alvah J. DeForge, was a vet

Power Failure Delays M.T.A.

Seventeen MTA cars were stalled for over two hours last night when a six o'clock power failure crippled the Arlington trolley line.

Hundreds of passengers were forced to wait a half hour before busses could be put into service on the line.

The power failure occurred in the South Boston power station, according to MTA officials, putting the entire Harvard to Arlington street car lines out of service.

Kiwanis Club Holding 25th Anniversary

Arlington Kiwanians will observe the 25th anniversary of the founding of the local club at a ladies night meeting to be held Thursday evening at the Robbins Memorial Town Hall.

Four members of the club who have been with the organization since it was chartered, and two others who have had 100 percent attendance for 23 years will be honored.

Lieutenant Governor Robert Green, who was the charter official for the club, Governor Al Klauer, and Lieutenant Governor Alan Blacklock will be present.

Judge Franklin W. L. Miles will be guest speaker, while Franklin P. Hawkes will be toastmaster. Lou Doctoroff, Tom O'Neill and Norman Walkinshaw are in charge of tickets. Bert Clark will feature the entertainment.

President Henry E. Keenan will preside.

Vote Doubles That of 1948

Spurred on by vigorous appeals in local papers, the efforts of the Arlington League of Women Voters, and the activities of a large number of candidates, voters turned out on Tuesday to more than double the 1948 primary total.

A total of 4636 Republicans and 4074 Democrats appeared at the various Arlington precincts yesterday to reach a town total of 8710 votes. The total number cast in the Presidential Primary year of 1948 was 3692, a figure surpassed this year by both parties.

In 1948, 2220 G. O. P. adherents cast a ballot, while only 1472 Democrats appeared at the voting quarters. In that year, the G. O. P. majority was 748, while this year, the Republicans had 562 more at the polls.

The Senatorial and Representative fights were largely responsible for the large number of Democratic voters who appeared, as their were no close major contests on the top of the ticket.

Campaigns for Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Attorney General were primarily responsible for the increased G. O. P. activity.

Plan Drive For Jobs For Many Handicapped

Veteran's Service Officers of Arlington and members of the Arlington Personnel Board, as well as other organizations here, are working with the Cambridge Committee for the Observance of National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week in an effort to find employment for about 150 in this area.

A recent meeting was held, attended by personnel directors of several industrial plants in this area, to make plans for the observance, which is scheduled for Oct. 1-7.

There are about 150 physically handicapped residents of the area who are listed with the Cambridge State Employment Office at 36 Church Street. All of these people have special skills which make them valuable prospects for employment.

Purcell Wins Senate Contest By Big Margin; To Oppose Campbell

Keenan, Corcoran, Gott, Ring Win Representative Nominations; Over 8,600 Voters Participate

WINNER

Joseph A. Purcell

Arlington voters responded in large numbers to the Joseph A. Purcell campaign for the Democratic Senatorial nomination here in Tuesday's primary, and provided a wide margin to the local Chairman of the Board of Selectmen to assure his choice over opponents from Medford, Woburn, and Winchester.

Mr. Purcell, according to 2339 votes by Arlington supporters a higher total than his closest supporters anticipated prior to the primaries, easily captured the nomination and will run against Robert P. Campbell of Medford, endorsed by G. O. P. voters throughout the district, in the November election.

The vote accorded Mr. Purcell was a glowing "favorite son" tribute to the local attorney, who conducted a very active campaign.

Local Democrats renominated Henry E. Keenan and chose Lawrence Corcoran as his running mate while the Republicans, as expected, renominated Hollis Gott and Hal-lam T. Ring to run for State Legislature against Mr. Keenan and Mr. Corcoran.

Interest in the campaign here ran higher than in many communities, and more votes were cast than in the 1948 primaries.

The Republicans went along with the general trend as they supported Arthur W. Coolidge of Reading for the gubernatorial nomination. Mr. Coolidge led in every ward in Arlington, with Louis E. Denfeld and General Daniel Needham running second in most areas.

Although Senate President Harris S. Richardson led in Arlington, the Republicans here followed the state trend as they strongly supported Laurence Curtis of Boston for Lieutenant Governor.

Attorney General candidate George Fingold of Concord ran ahead of the nominee, Frederick Ayer Jr. of Wenham in that key G. O. P. battle, while the vote between Roy C. Papalia of Watertown and Fred J. Burrell of Medford for the nomination for State Treasurer was very close here. Russell A. Wood was endorsed for Secretary, William G. Andrew of Cambridge for Auditor.

Walter M. Simmons of Arlington received 1107 votes for the G. O. P. nomination from the Sixth Councilor District.

In the Republican contest for Sixth Middlesex Senator, Robert Campbell of Medford moved well in front of his opponents and practically clinched the nomination in Arlington with his 2206 votes. Lillian A. R. Whitman ran second with 1202 votes, while the others trailed. Unofficial returns from Winchester, Woburn, and Medford indicated that Campbell would have a wide majority.

Unofficial returns from the other Senate communities in the district indicated that Attorney Purcell's

Announce Expanded Adult Program In Arlington Schools

The School Committee has approved a greatly expanded Adult Education Program commencing the first week in October. Clifford R. Hall, Superintendent of Schools, announces that as a result of the tremendous amount of interest shown by the citizenry, a large variety of courses will be offered this fall and winter in our schools. As a result of an experimental program carried out last winter, it was discovered that the citizens of Arlington want instruction and training in such subjects as Upholstering, Sewing, Cooking, Rug Hooking, Machine Shop Practice, Automotive Mechanics, Furniture Refinishing, Typewriting, Business Procedure and a host of other subjects. While it is impossible to meet every demand, it is felt that the program for this fall and winter is sufficiently diversified to meet most requirements.

There will be no registration or tuition charges to residents of Arlington, but in view of the fact that enrollments in each class will be limited to a specific number, registrations will be accepted on a basis of first served, from anyone residing in Arlington not now registered in our day schools. Registration must be done in person at the Junior High Industrial Arts School (formerly Junior Centre) on Academy Street from 2:30 to 5:00 and 7:30 to 9:00 on September 26, 27 and 28. Classes will begin the week of October 2. Classes will be held evenings, Monday through Thursday and Junior High School East. The faculty has been chosen because their own proficiency in the subject matter they will teach. The program is sponsored by the Arlington Public Schools in full cooperation with the State Department of Education, Department of Vocational Education, M. Norcross Stratton, Supervisor.

A descriptive booklet giving details of the entire program may be had at the School Department, 23 Maple Street or from the principals of any of our schools. Further information may be had from Joseph H. Gaudet, Supervisor of Adult Education, 23 Maple Street, Arlington, Mass.

NOTE: The Monday cooking class is limited to working people who would like to come directly from their place of employment and prepare their evening meal. A good investment for the home chest!

NOTE: All course listed above will continue from October to March except Home Mechanics, Small Business Operation, Typewriting and Blue Print Reading which will continue until December only.

ARLINGTON NOT A DIRECT LOAN AREA

Mr. Charles Armour, head of the Arlington Veterans service center, announced this week that contrary to an earlier report, Arlington is not a direct loan area and therefore Veterans who were planning to borrow from the government to finance real estate, may not do so.

Under a letter dated July, 19, 1950 from the central veterans center in Washington, Boston was advised that the New England area had been dropped from the real estate loan eligibility list.

THEY GAMBLLED WITH DEATH

A twisted mass of wreckage and a dead driver resulted when this sedan attempted to pass another car on a down-grade curve and smashed into a truck coming uphill.

Passing on a hill crest or curve is a certain invitation to death and it is the most common cause of fatal accidents on rural roads where two out of every three traffic deaths occur. Such dangerous passing not only requires additional speed to complete the passing maneuver but the car that passes on narrow roads is in the wrong lane, giving oncoming vehicles little chance to avoid head-on collisions.

One of a series of actual accidents taken from the files of Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, this safe driving picture message is presented in the interests of preventing highway deaths and injuries.

Archbishop Supports Crusade For Freedom

His Excellency Richard J. Cushing, Archbishop of Boston, announced his wholehearted support this week (Monday, Sept. 18) of the Crusade for Freedom campaign whose two-fold purpose is to obtain the signature of every Massachusetts person opposed to Communism and to raise contributions to help finance a chain of private radio stations that will beam the truth about American democracy behind the Iron Curtain throughout Europe and Asia.

"I heartily endorse the Crusade for Freedom," the Archbishop stated in a letter to the Crusade's executive vice-chairman for Massachusetts, William A. Beale.

"Millions of signatures of citizens of the United States in behalf of this Crusade," the letter continued, "is one way of successfully contradicting the well known Red Fascist cry that only Capitalists and the Military are opposed to Communism."

The Declaration of Freedom pledge which all citizens are being asked to sign is as follows:

"I believe in the sacredness and dignity of the individual. I believe that all men derive the right to freedom equally from God. I pledge to resist aggression and tyranny they appear on earth.

"I am proud to enlist in the Crusade for Freedom. I am proud to help make the Freedom Bell possible, to be a signer of this Declaration of Freedom, to have my name included as a permanent part of the Freedom Shrine in Berlin, and to join with the millions of men and women throughout the world who hold the cause of freedom sacred."

The freedom scrolls, with the signatures on them, will be enshrined in the base of a giant, 10-ton bronze Freedom Bell to be installed, and dedicated behind the Iron Curtain in Berlin on United Nations day, Oct. 24.

The crusade for Freedom drive will extend through Oct. 24 in Massachusetts, Nathan Tufts of Greenfield is state chairman, and Fredrick C. Church of Boston is treasurer. Contributions should be mailed to Church at State Headquarters of the Crusade for Freedom, Room 301, 0 Federal Street, Boston.

Cost Accountants Hear Economist

Stressing that the present international crisis would present new economic problems and new economic opportunities, Arthur L. Bright, Jr., Hingham, addressed the Boston Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants at its first monthly meeting of the year at the Hotel Bradford, Boston, on Wednesday, September 21. The subject of his talk was "Communist Aggression and the New England Economy."

Thomas L. Morison 4 Highland Terrace, Winchester, past president of the Boston Chapter was the chairman of the meeting.

Mr. Bright, one of the region's leading industrial economists, told the interested audience that New England will be called on to expand its military production and adjust its non-military production, through the requirements this time will undoubtedly be somewhat different from those of World War II. He further stated that New England's record in the last war and the known differences in the present situation help to show our task for the next few years.

Others active in this first meeting of the year were:

"Oh, look at the bubbles!" That will probably be your family's first reaction when they spy this novel and attractive fruit gelatin dessert. Using ginger ale as an ingredient, you can mold bubbles right into the gelatin, creating a special "sparkley" effect that the family will love.

"What a grand flavor!" That will be the next exclamation of pleasure when your family tastes fresh pears, top of the season, molded in this wonderful taste combination of ginger ale and luscious raspberry-flavored gelatin.

"This is an idea for my recipe file!" And that's what you'll say to yourself when you see how easy it is to prepare a gayly original dessert that adds real freshness and charm to your late-summer menus.

GINGER PEAR MOLD

1 package raspberry-flavored gelatin
1/2 cup hot water
1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 1/2 cups ginger ale
1 cup diced fresh pears

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add lemon juice and ginger ale gradually. Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in pears. Turn into 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with pear halves, green grapes and green leaves. Makes 6 servings.

Cancer Education In State Schools

Carillons Will Ring Out From Trinity Church

September 24, during the 11 A. M. Morning Worship Service, Trinity Baptist Church in East Arlington will pay special tribute to the women and men of their congregation who served in the Armed Forces during World War II. The recognition will be twofold in its purpose. There will be a memorialized dedication for those who made the supreme sacrifice, which will be permanently recorded within the Church on a bronze plaque; and the Church's Service Flag will be retired in a ceremony for those who returned to renew their activities in the Kingdom's Service.

The members of the Church have long considered an appropriate memorial, and they have purchased Carillon Bells which will not only sing praises to the Glory of God, but will peal out the Calls to Worship. Installation of these bells has been completed, and they will be heard in the community within a half mile radius of the church from the stentors atop the bell tower.

The Pastor, Rev. Lewis W. Williamson, a former Major Chaplain in the U. S. Army, will officiate. 126 invitations have been extended to the Service Personnel and their Parents to participate in this dedication in their honor. Mr. Robert, Proctor, organist and choir director of the Church, will be at the console to proclaim the inspiring tones of these magnificent bells. Trinity has always been regarded as the Community Church of East Arlington and with the ministry of these bells it will continue to serve not only on Sundays but during other Holy Seasons of the year as well.

Portraits At Library Show Many Styles

The group of portraits from the Robbins Art Collection now hanging in the small gallery of the Robbins Library until October 7th is particularly interesting since it shows the various techniques used in the making of prints.

Woodcut, the earliest used technique, is represented by Lucas Cranach's portrait of Erasmus. Engraving came into popular use by the fifteenth century; portraits in this manner—the best are those of Robert Nanteuil—are made by cutting the lines into a copper plate. When acid is used to make the design on a metal plate, the technique is called etching; Rembrandt and Van Dyck are two of the greatest etchers in the history of the art.

Lithography came into common use in the nineteenth century; Toulouse-Lautrec's lithograph of Sarah Bernhardt shows how this technique creates a print that looks very much like a drawing.

A group of prominent educators today planned a unique conference with members of the educational staff of the Massachusetts Division of the American Cancer Society in an effort to devise a working pattern for cancer education in the schools and colleges of Massachusetts.

The meeting will be held Sept. 21 in the Science Building of Emmanuel College at 3:15 p. m. and specifically its purpose will be view a teaching pattern used by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. in schools with the idea that a similar teaching unit may be implemented in teaching the facts about cancer to students.

Plans for the conference were made last spring as result of a meeting of Miss Beryl Roberts, Director of the Cancer Society's educational staff, with a state committee of educators. That committee was composed of Russell Mack, Supervisor of Secondary Education for the State Education Department; Miss Jean Latimer, Teacher Training Coordinator for the State Public Health Department; Father Timothy O'Leary, Assistant Superintendent of Parochial Schools for the Boston Archdiocese; and Crosby Hodgman, headmaster of the Beayer Country Day Schools.

The state committee appointed a representative group of teachers to work with them.

Members of both the state committee and the teachers' committee have been invited to attend the Sept. 21 conference.

Through the cooperation of Robert Stokes, business relations director of the Telephone Company, Edward Palmer, a representative of the concern, will bring to the conference the entire teaching unit used by the company in many elementary schools. The unit consists of a film "Adventures in Telezonia," teaching guides, student leaflets, and other educational material.

According to Miss Roberts, this is the first time that the Cancer Society has sought to work with the teachers in Massachusetts schools to devise a program of cancer education for students.

Zonta Club Has First Meeting

The first fall meeting of the Zonta Club of Arlington was held at the Winchester Country Club on Thursday with Katherine T. Callahan presiding.

A very complete and inspiring report of the International Convention held at Miami in June was given by Lillian Lawry.

On September 28, the Zontians will have as their speaker Mr. Roscoe Elliott, who will talk on "Changes in Form of Town Government."

Among those saluted with birthday greetings recently on the WCO P Young Timer's Club program were: Margaret Cournoyer, 12 Winter Street, Winchester. Kathleen Navin, 30 Cleveland St., Arlington. John H. Day, Jr., 126 Broadway, Arlington.

Binders Aplenty But No Bazookas

Once more we were caught unprepared to deal with a well trained, well equipped enemy. For instead of stock-piling modern tanks and bazookas we find in one warehouse of one government agency 93-years supply of fluorescent light bulbs and 247-years supply of loose-leaf binders.

The Hoover Report came just in time—a critical study of the creaky obsolete and wasteful machinery used to run the biggest and most important business operation in the world.

The gangsters in the Kremlin must have enjoyed reading the many revelations of duplication, waste and over-lapping contained in the Commission's report.

But the idea behind the Hoover Report must have been hard for the Russians to understand because in the land of barbed wire and firing guards no criticism of government would be tolerated.

Fortunately over a third of the Hoover blueprint has been enacted into law. Today with the survival of a free world at stake we need, more than ever before, orderly and responsible government.

Under our form of government there is just one way to get real leadership and responsibility in government—thru the ballot box. In 1946 and again in 1948 less than half of the voters took the trouble to vote. Let's hope for a better performance in 1950.

We will have just as poor government as we will tolerate or as good government as we demand.

Somerville Power May Snap Arlington Streak

Toczykowski Eleven Opens Here Saturday—Visitors Show Strength In Lidlifter

By FRANK MAHONEY

Saturday afternoon, some 5000 Arlington fans are expected to turn out to see the grid game between the Toczykowski men and what appears to be a very tough Somerville High.

Somerville opened their season Sunday afternoon, defeating Chelsea 14-0. Little Carl Scozzaro, 6 ft. 4 in., 145 pound quarterback, ran and passed Somerville High to the victory which will mean trouble for the Arlington eleven.

Somerville has had their opener and thus gotten over the opening day jitters which beset every team making its debut. Having been under fire, the Somerville team coaches and quarterbacks know what they are capable of, something Arlington High does not.

Everyone looked on the Somerville-Arlington opener to be a good game but no one expected to see the power witnessed in Chelsea last Sunday afternoon. If this power comes to the forefront Saturday afternoon, the Arlington squad is in for a very rugged test.

Coach Henry Toczykowski has been running his men through a practice every day this week, trying to figure out a defensive play that will stop the passing combination of Scozzaro to Skeffington which set the Somerville team in scoring position twice on Sunday.

Even though Toz is fortunate in having thirteen of last year's squad back he lost four of his best men. Tobin will surely be missed in the back-up position he played so well last year. Also among the missing will be the power of Jack Cosgrove at quarterback and the speed of Dick Durocher at end.

However, Tiz has four of last year's back field men back, Moose O'Brien at half and Bill Kenneally will be calling the signals.

Game time Saturday will be 2:00 p. m. and the result of the big test may be the proof of whether Arlington will have another bowl team or go down as a victim like Chelsea High.

FIELD HOCKEY

The Park Department again sponsors the Arlington Field Hockey Club. The first practice will be Sunday, September 24, 1950, at 2:00 p. m. at Robbins Farm. All girls interested in playing are welcome.

"Here's the Pitch"

By "Bump" Hadley

WBZ, WBZ-TV Sportscaster and Former Major League Pitcher

LAST YEAR THERE were seven 20-game winners among the major league pitchers, namely, Warren Spahn of the Braves, Howie Pollet of the Cardinals, Bob Lemon of the Indians, Vic Rashi of the Yankees, Alex Kellner of the Athletics and Mel Parnell and Ellis Kinder of the Red Sox. Unless the leading pitchers bog down on the stretch, there may be twice that many in this year's crop, despite all the talk about poor pitching.

Three of last year's select circle are possible repeaters, Bob Lemon of the Indians, Warren Spahn of the Braves and Vic Rashi of the Yankees.

The Braves have two other possible 20-game winners in Johnny Sain and Warren Bickford. The Philadelphia Phils have two possibilities in Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons. Of course, Simmons' chances will depend on how many games Uncle Sam lets him pitch, before he shoulders a gun.

Preacher Roe of the Brooklyn Dodgers has a fine chance of entering the 20-game circle. And Larry Jansen of the Giants has an outside chance of making it, particularly if the Giants get hot again, as they did a few weeks back.

In the American League, Art Houtteman of the Detroit Tigers appears to be a certainty. Early Wynn of the Cleveland Indians is in a good spot to make the charmed circle, and Ed Lopat of the Yankees is a possibility.

In fact, Ed pretty near has to hit the 20-mark if the Yankees are to win the pennant. And they're a strong wager at this writing.

Cab Driver Bombed Out

A Somerville cab driver reported to the Arlington Police Thursday night his cab had just been bombed on Broadway, Arlington near Oxford Street.

Concerning policemen sat the worried cab driver in a chair and pursued him with questions? What kind of a bomb? Where did it come from? Who threw it? Got any enemies? Questions at these were fired at the cab driver.

After he had caught his breath he said he did not know where it came from but it was a stink bomb and it was thrown from the Oxford Street side of Broadway underneath his cab, forcing him to vacate the machine.

As yet know one knows where the bomb came from but it put the cab driver out of business for the night or at last until the A-I-R-lifted.

Winchester Team In Thrilling 13-12 Win

The flying feet of a sophomore speedster and the tried and true toe of a place kick specialist sparked Winchester high school's 1950 football team to a brilliant, hard-fought victory over an improved Milton high eleven at Manchester field in the opening fracas of the new season Saturday afternoon.

Six foot Joe Dolan, practically unknown at the season's start, and Langdon Smith collaborated to provide the narrow 13-12 margin of victory for Coach Henry Knowlton's team.

Donlan, showed plenty of speed as he sped around Milton's ends with pitchouts from his T-formation quarterback, sprinted 32 yards for the initial tally, and kept the Milton defenses spread for the rest of the game.

After overcoming some defensive jitters by recovering a fumble on their own four yard line in the first period, Winchester staged its first offensive smash of the season. Showing excellent adaption of the new T-formation system installed by Coach Knowlton, the home team marched 96 yards for the first touchdown.

Quarterback Jost Michelsen handled the ball adeptly, and his pitchouts to Conlan enabled the long-legged youngsters to get around the Milton flank for two long jaunts. The first ate up 35 yards to put Winchester deep into Milton territory, and the second saw the sophomore sprint into the end zone for the score. The conversion attempt failed, but the Knowlton forces ended the period with a 6-0 lead.

The second period saw Milton take the offensive, with an aerial assault which baffled the home team. Don Lake was the pitcher, and Doug May and Dick Gallery the receivers as Milton marched 70 yards to score. Gallery pulled in the scoring pass, shook off a Winchester tackler, and evened up the afternoons proceedings.

The third quarter saw both teams making early season mistakes to keep the ball between the 30 yard lines most of the time, but as the period ended, Winchester was on it's way.

Again Michelsen lead the team effectively, sending Bob Johnson inside tackles for good gains. Johnson charged into the end zone from about 17 yards out to give the home forces a 12-6 lead.

Here Smith entered the game. This time his place kick was true, and Winchester had a valuable extra point to make the score read 13-6.

Lake started throwing again as soon as Milton took the next kickoff. He placed the team downfield until Winchester stiffened outside

SPOTS ON SPORTS

The chips will go down a little earlier for the Arlington high school eleven than was the indication a couple of weeks ago. Either Chelsea high has slipped further into the gridiron doldrums, or Somerville has come up with a fairly rugged eleven. Last week's 32-0 win gave Coach Henry Toczykowski a bit of a headache. Toz would like to have a game under his belt before he takes on a real tough Class A. opponent.

The Arlington team will really have to live up to top expectations to take overville. Some of the players were looking a couple of weeks down the line to the expected explosion at altham come October 7, but Mr. Terrasi—Beck and company will have to wait until the local bats get by Somerville and a Leominster team about which very little is known at present.

Already gridiron writers are setting up the local outfit as Lowell's chief competition for another Class A title. Melrose lists the Toz team as the best on it's schedule. However Class B. titlists Gloucester, a perennial powerhouse, learned the hard way that this is a new year when Revere coasted by decisively. Even conservative Nate Ross didn't anticipate that one.

Over Winchester way, a newcomer, six foot Joe Donlan, shows a lot of promise. A second year man, he can go a long way if he adds a little weight. A speedster who can circle the ends will always be a great threat for anybody's football team.

If Coach Toczykowski can bring his team past the early opposition, he may get a breather or two in October, but November spells trouble. Three games away from home with Medford, Lowell, and Melrose winds up the 1950 schedule. The Lowell game may reach epic proportions if Riddick and Toz can repeat last year's great record that far.

Aided to the usual high school worries of overconfidence, scholastic difficulties, and service calls. Medford reports loss of some promising boys to Uncle aSm already. There's no immediate prospects for mufti for any of Arlington's gridders.

Driver Training Course At AHS

Editors of the new National Television Directory, which will make its first appearance in Chicago in September are Ted Materna, left above, Chicago television writer, producer and packager, and John East Naylor, Jr., advertising executive.

CHICAGO—Among the many young men who have entered the television field on the "ground floor" are Ted Materna and John East Naylor, Jr., both of whom are well known in the theatrical and Broadway circles where they have coached and written for top nightclub and stage performers. The pair will be associate editors for the new professional directory for television programming, National Television Directory.

Mr. Materna, formerly a network radio writer and actor, began his television career after leaving Northwestern University where he studied radio and theater, and after a brief fling in summer stock. He taught advanced classes at a Chicago television institute and freelanced as a writer and program packager. He is engaged to Kaye Ballard, London stage star of Touch and Go. Naylor entered the television field through advertising. He attended Amherst, Illinois, and Iowa-Wesleyan where he studied advertising and business administration. The young editors are also working on a television programming textbook, run a television news and information service for TV talent and hope to soon syndicate a national television column called TELEVISION BACKSTAGE.

A feature of their new directory will be the National Television Awards, an annual selection of the foremost commercial and artistic contributions to television programming, the selections being made by the people active in the field. First awards will be announced with publication of the directory in September.

Probably the most unusual listing is that of Kukla, Fran & Ollie. Other listings include persons and firms associated with the television programming field and related fields such as advertising. The listings include producers, designers, talent, film companies, show titles, agents, agencies, consultants, press-reviewers and television editors, schools and other classifications. The credits were obtained from an extensive monitoring system and research program set up by the two young editors last January and through direct contact with television stations in the nation. The directory will be published semi-annually. Offices are located at 20 E. Jackson Blvd., Chicago.

Launch Crusade For Freedom In State

The Crusade for Freedom drive to combat the spread of Communist propaganda got underway with an official launching by Gov. Paul A. Dever in a State-wide radio broadcast from historic Faneuil Hall in which he urged support of the Freedom Crusade's program to stop "the mouthings of a Malik" and to "fight brute force and violence with truth."

Gov. Dever's radio talk was preceded by the solemn tolling of the Freedom Bell from the Cradle of American Democracy proclaiming a new campaign of truth for the citizens of Massachusetts.

"The Crusade for Freedom is not merely a movement to free us from the evils of international Communism," Gov. Dever said. "It is a noble enterprise to free us by means which conform to our principles and our dignity. It is dedicated to the proposition that we set men free by spreading the truth."

Support of the Crusade, he said, would "help us offset the malignant influence of the mouthings of Malik, the false pretensions everywhere from the propagandists of Communism and their fellow travelers."

Nathan Tufts of Greenfield, State Chairman of the drive, said that enrollment stations will be established in many parts of the State as soon as possible so that the citizens of Massachusetts would be given an opportunity to sign the Freedom Scroll, declaring their renewed faith in the basic freedoms, and to contribute to the support of Radio Free Europe, a radio station in Germany which broadcasts behind the Iron Curtain. Proceeds from the drive also will help to build a network of freedom radio stations in countries behind the Iron Curtain in both Europe and Asia to bring Democracy's truths to the people in Red-dominated territories. He urged the public to send contributions directly to Frederic C. Church, Treasurer of the Massachusetts Crusade for Freedom, at State Headquarters, 80 Federal Street, Room 301, Boston.

Gas Companies Will Share Or Serve All New England Areas

Poland Spring, Maine, Sept. 16—analysis of the economic effects of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation and Algonquin Gas Transmission Company stand ready to undertake by themselves the service of the entire New England market with natural gas, "If this appears to be the most desirable manner for such service to be rendered," R. H. Hargrove, president of Texas Eastern declared here today at the 25th Anniversary meeting of the New England Council.

These two companies are also ready and willing to accept the compromise division of the New England natural gas markets between the two competing systems, indicated in exhibits presented by the Federal Power Commission staff counsel, at recent Commission hearings, Mr. Hargrove added.

The pipeline executive also told the Council that steel pipe for Texas Eastern's New England project was scheduled for delivery in December. "Granted authority," he said, "we will at once begin construction and prosecute it to as quick a conclusion as is physically possible, to the end always of providing New England with the best, most dependable natural gas service at the lowest possible cost."

Mr. Hargrove's statements came as he brought the Council members up to date on progress of hearings before the Federal Power Commission and analyzed the alternative steps which that body might take in coming to a decision on the question of natural gas service for New England.

Without predicting the action of the Commission, the Texas Eastern president stated categorically that Algonquin and Texas Eastern were ready and willing to undertake either the service of (1) the entire New England market, (2) the markets originally proposed to be served, or (3) the lesser markets for the Algonquin partnership indicated by recent exhibits of the FPC staff designed to show how two competing systems could economically serve the New England market.

"We (Texas Eastern and Algonquin) are willing to accept the reduced markets which would fall out under such a plan in order to permit the timely service of all New England," said Mr. Hargrove, referring to the Staff Counsel exhibits.

"We also stand ready," he added, "to undertake to serve the entire New England market ourselves if this appears to be the most desirable manner for such service to be rendered."

A major part of Mr. Hargrove's address was devoted to a detailed other proposed system. And yet, he noted, even with this advantage the price of gas for general industrial use would not normally be competitive with industrial bituminous coal and heavy fuel oil at their present levels.

However, in a war emergency, Mr. said, price would yield to dependability of your supply of natural gas actually becomes much greater than that of your coal or oil supply," he said. For this reason, he observed, the crisis in Korea accentuates the urgency of providing New England with an adequate natural gas supply.

Texas Eastern is ready to begin immediate construction of facilities to serve Algonquin, Mr. Hargrove told the Council. Contracts have been signed for 830 miles of 30-inch pipe and deliveries are scheduled to start in December. New England's natural gas requirements and Texas Eastern's gas supply contracts are backed by ample Southwestern reserves, he said. Prime contract for the New England service, calling for delivery, in Mississippi, of 134 billion cubic feet of gas per year, was concluded last Spring between Texas Eastern and United Gas Pipe Line Company, of Shreveport, Louisiana. Recent negotiations with United, Mr. Hargrove stated after the meeting, have indicated that an additional 35 billion cubic feet annually can be made available under the contract within the next few
